

Horsing around in the hospital

Laura Inns
The World-Herald

He's short in stature, but built to lift spirits. Lucky Boy, a registered therapy animal from Sunrise EquiTherapy, gives patients something to look forward to on his visits to health facilities. Above, Cheryl Spencer Tuesday at Immanuel Rehabilitation Center.